

Jim Jones

Director

- Appointed March 14, 2007
- Committee Membership: Governance, Finance (Chair)

Jim is a lawyer and a management consultant with extensive executive experience in the mining industry. He spent over twenty years with Teck Coal Limited and its predecessors, Elk Valley Coal Partnership and Fording Inc., where he was responsible for human resources, legal affairs, corporate communications, government and community relations and corporate governance. Jim was a Vice President and Secretary of Fording Canadian Coal Trust from 2004 to 2008. Prior to pursuing his corporate career, he practised law focusing on labour and employment law.

Jim holds a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Saskatchewan and a law degree from the University of Victoria. He serves as a Director of the Resource Training Organization and is a past Director of the Mining Association of British Columbia, the Mining Association of Canada and a past Chair and Director of Neptune Bulk Terminals (Canada) Limited.